Travel Insurance

It is strongly recommended to purchase comprehensive travel insurance to cover medical (including pre-existing conditions), personal, baggage, and cancellation. This is a smart way to safeguard against life's surprises. Unsure of your final costs? Insure now the amount you have paid (deposit, airfare, etc.) – and then after any future payments your policy can be amended. While we recommend the services of the agents below, you can and should consult your own insurance broker and check other providers to see who offers coverage that best fits your needs. Agnon House does not take responsibility for your personal insurance nor do we have any financial interest in the sale of policies. Please note: We are advised that to receive maximum coverage, one should purchase insurance within 21 days of the first payment of a deposit or any portion for an upcoming trip, regardless of whether this payment is refundable. It is also advised to insure one additional day at the end in the event of a return delay to your final destination.

[Check with your credit card—some companies or plans offer cancellation and luggage insurance as a perk of using their card to pay for a tour.]

For American citizens (in USA or living abroad): We recommend Travel Insurance Center, a division of SMS (Senior Market Sales) and members of UStiA (United States Travel Insurance Association), worldwide travel insurance brokers with decades of experience. They offer travel insurance for American residents or for American expats abroad. Contact Yonah Engel and mention reference code: AGNON HOUSE TOUR.
